

NEW MOVE IN NEW YORK

Republicans Offer to Join the Insurgents.

WOULD ACCEPT DEMOCRAT

Suggest That List of Men Be Offered—Dix Expects an Election by Opening of Congress.

Albany, March 28.—Republican senators, who have done nothing for months toward settling the senatorial question and who hustled to Albany in force yesterday in response to a party call, jumped into the Democratic dispute by preparing a proposition to the insurgents by which they indicated that they were willing to vote for an independent Democrat for the United States senate to settle the deadlock. While the Democrats were in a turmoil over the reports and rumors about the action of the caucus to be held this evening, these Republican senators met to formulate a proposition, which must be seriously considered by the twenty-one Democrats who have held out against the election of William F. Sheehan.

Senator Brackett at 1:30 issued this statement from the meeting of the Republican senators:

"A largely attended conference of Republican senators was held this morning. While no vote was taken nor any decisive action had, it was the consensus of opinion that, if the Democratic caucus failed last night to select a candidate for United States senator, and was called to reconvene to-night, twenty-five candidates were voted for, William F. Sheehan leading with a vote of 28—less than a third of those taking part. Ninety of the 116 Democratic members of the legislature answered the roll call. These included a few who have been voting for some other candidate than the caucus nominee but the bulk of the insurgents were absent.

DEMOCRATIC HORDE IN QUEST OF OFFICE

Aspirant May Number 26,700 for 500 Jobs Contracted by National House.

Washington, March 28.—Not since Grover Cleveland assumed the presidency for a second time, back in 1892, have there been so many Democrats in the capital of the nation in quest of office. A host of hopeful Democrats has been invading Washington for several days in anticipation of organization of the new Democratic House, a week from yesterday, when 500 Republican employees who draw salaries aggregating $750,000 annually, will be turned out upon the world.

Washington boarding houses noticed early last week business was increasing and all of them are making great preparations for the horde of Democratic office-seekers who are expected here before the caucus of House Democrats on Saturday next.

"I never saw anything like it," said a prominent Democratic congressman from a southern state Sunday in speaking of the great rush of Democrats for the jobs under the control of the House of Representatives. "I live four miles from Washington, but more than 100 of my constituents have written urging that I secure for them jobs."

Women as Well as Men are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased. Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers who found Swamp-Root to be just the remedy needed. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

BREAKS UP A COLD AND CURES GRIPPE

The Most Severe Cold and Grippe Misery Will Be Relieved in Just a Few Hours.

You can surely end grippe and break up the most severe cold either in head, chest, back, stomach or limbs, by taking a dose of Pape's Cold Compound every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken.

It promptly relieves the most miserable neuralgia pains, headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, mucous catarrhal discharges, running of the nose, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges.

Take this harmless Compound as directed, without interference with your usual duties and with the knowledge that there is no other medicine made anywhere else in the world, which will cure your cold or grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound which any druggist in the world can supply.

Pape's Cold Compound is the result of three years' research at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars, and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not effective in the treatment of colds or grippe.

BIG WIND IN PHILADELPHIA.

Many Buildings Blown Down During Electrical Storm.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 28.—A severe electrical storm, accompanied by a high wind, swept over the northern section of this city shortly after 10 o'clock last night. Buildings were demolished, houses unroofed and the New York division of the Pennsylvania railroad was placed out of commission temporarily by the demolition of its tower at Holmesburg and station at Tacony, cutting off all telegraphic communication.

The roof of the Tacony police station was blown off and every window was shattered by a violent burst of wind. At the Tacony station on the Pennsylvania railroad an unidentified man was killed by falling timbers. Many mills and factories were unroofed or otherwise damaged in Tacony and Manayunk. In Roxborough a section of the wall of St. Thomas hospital was blown in, burying patients under the debris. None was badly hurt.

British Foreign Secretary Tells Hecklers There is No Quarrel.

London, March 28.—The group in the House of Commons, who have persistently heckled the government regarding Ambassador Bryce's connection with American-Canadian reciprocity negotiations is now trying to involve the British diplomat in the Mexican situation.

Yesterday these members invited the foreign office to instruct Mr. Bryce to urge upon President Taft the desirability of submitting the Mexican situation to arbitration.

Secretary Grey's reply was: "I do not know to what question you are alluding. The relations of the United States and the Mexican governments, according to my most recent information, are quite friendly."

DIAZ NEW CABINET IS FORMALLY ANNOUNCED

Costo Is Named as the Head of the Department of War.

Mexico City, March 28.—Coincident with the official announcement of a new Diaz cabinet yesterday came that of the appointment of Manuel De Zamacona E. Inelcan as ambassador to the United States succeeding Francisco De La Barra, named secretary of foreign affairs.

At the same time the resignation of Miguel Macedo as sub-secretary of the department of the interior became known. In the cabinet, as announced yesterday, the office of secretary of the interior was left vacant. Speculation as to its incumbent still favored Teodoro De Hesa, governor of Vera Cruz and candidate for vice president at the last election.

General Goscio retains the portfolio of the department of war.

The cabinet as at present constituted follows: Foreign relations, Francisco Leon De La Barra. Interior, pending. Justice, Demetrio Sodi. Public instruction, Jorge Vero Estanoli. Fomento, Manuel Marroquin Y. Rivera. Communications and public works, Norberto Dominguez. Finance, Jose Yves Limantour, incumbent.

War and marine, General Manuel Donizalez Gozio. Senator Zamacona Inelcan is the government's financial agent in London, where he has been stationed for the last two years.

A HOPEFUL MESSAGE TO SCALP SUFFERERS AND MEN WHOSE HAIR IS THINNING

Dandruff now—bald later. The same is true of scalp diseases. In fact baldness is a scalp disease. The trouble with the greasy salves and lotions, the so-called dandruff and scalp cures you have tried so far is that they don't do anything but temporarily relieve the itching and make the dandruff so it doesn't fall until it's dried out again. Nothing can cure—really cure such troubles but a real scalp medicine that will kill the germs causing dandruff and scalp disease.

Learning from leading fellow druggists throughout America that they had found a whirlwind cure for dandruff, seborrhea and all diseases of the skin and scalp, the Red Cross pharmacy on proving to the laboratories compounding the treatment that it is the most prominent drug store in this city, secured the agency for the remedy. This remedy is Zemo, the clean, liquid preparation that kills the germ of disease and Zemo soap to wash the scalp or skin clear and clean of the dandruff scale and by its anti-septic qualities soothe and heal.

Sold and guaranteed by druggists everywhere and in Barre by the Red Cross Pharmacy.

PICKS ALL-VERMONT BASKETBALL TEAM

Writer, Who Has Seen Some of the Prominent School Teams' Plays, Makes His Selection.

Editor, Barre Times: It has been my fortune to have seen nine different basketball teams play this winter. I attended the championship game between Goddard seminary and Burlington high school at Burlington; I saw Newport high school play twice and I was present at Newport when People's academy defeated Newport. From what I have seen of Newport, they can only be classified as second raters.

Last year, in your columns, one of your readers picked an all-Vermont interscholastic basketball team, and thinking it might be of interest to some, I will endeavor to pick one, and it is as follows:

Richardson, I. L. Goddard; Kelly, R. L. P. A. J. Fisk, C. Goddard; Alden, I. G. Burlington H. S.; Chappel, R. G. Goddard; Hughes, substitute, Burlington H. S.

As Goddard won the championship, it is more than reasonable to put three men on the team. The guards are not up to last year's standards. There is not one that equals Griggs' record last year. The Goddard seminary team seemed to be built around Richardson, and together with Fisk, it made a hard combination to stop. Kelley of P. A. is small, but fast and a phenomenal shot. Alden played center with his team, but he played such a wonderful game that he deserves a place on the interscholastic team.

Hoping that other Times readers will choose all-Vermont interscholastic teams, I remain,

James Barrent, jr.

ST. BERNARD DOGS.

These Famous Life Saving Animals Are Said to Be Mongrels.

Among American tourists in Switzerland there is much rivalry for securing "real" St. Bernards to take home with them. They evidently do not know that the St. Bernards are mongrels. The original St. Bernards saw the light toward the end of the fourteenth century. The mother was a Wallis shepherd dog, the sire a mongrel of a Great Dane and a Spanish mountain mastiff.

In the winter of 1812 nearly all the dogs lost their lives in the snow. In 1816 the last St. Bernard dog died. But a monk of Martigny had a mongrel St. Bernard, and this was crossed with Wallis sheep dogs. The breeding being done in scientific manner, the present race of St. Bernards, though mongrel, like the first, is better and stronger than the old ones, it is said.

The railways have made use of St. Bernards almost unnecessary now, yet they continue on the old stand in winter when the snow lies high. Only the male dogs are used for rescuing men in distress. They are followed by men on snowshoes, who carry provisions. Each of the older dogs has one or more young companions, which he teaches the business.—Boston Post.

Valuable For Croup

Montpelier Woman Recommends Mysterious Pain Ease.

Mysterious Pain Ease has such a variety of uses that we constantly hear of some one who finds some special use for it.

Junius Barnes & Son,

Dear Sirs:—

We have used your Scotch remedy nearly three years and never yet found its equal. As an all-round family medicine, it is especially valuable as a remedy for croup, as it affords sure and swift relief and with from one to three free applications cures. With pleasure I recommend its use in all cases of throat irritation.

Mrs. S. S. Ballard,

Montpelier, Vt.

Mysterious Pain Ease penetrates right through the pores and reaches the congested or inflamed parts of the lungs or throat. Be careful about taking cold medicines inwardly when the system is weakened. Mysterious Pain Ease doctors the spot and does it from the outside.

Ask your druggist for a bottle—25 cent and 50 cent sizes. By mail if you wish.

A SINGULAR WILL CASE

By ARTHUR W. BREUSTER

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

Of all the strange coincidences I have ever heard none is stranger than one happening in my own life, and it led to important results.

One day, happening in at my lawyer's office, he said to me:

"By the bye, we have a big lot of papers in your case against Busby. It has all been settled up, and I would like to turn them over to you. We are overburdened here with dead documents."

He called an office boy and sent for the papers. They came to me in one large bundle, which I tucked under my arm, walked home with it, and threw it, without opening it, into an iron box kept for family records.

Ten years passed, during which period I went on an average to the box once or twice a year to toss into it some document that would probably never be needed again. I had no occasion to look into the box during all this period, but the time came when I found it necessary to overhaul it in a search for a missing paper. By the time I found my paper every separate bunch had been unrolled and their contents were all in confusion. Picking up a paper marked "Last will and testament of James Chieningsby," I was somewhat surprised to find such a document.

I opened and ran my eye over its contents. There was nothing to indicate the value of the estate, nor were the names of any of the legatees familiar to me. There were a few small bequests to different persons, and the residue was to be given to a minor. How the paper got into my box was a mystery. I was not interested in the will, but I was deeply interested in how it came to be where I found it. It must have been there a long while, for but not more than twenty years, for the date it was executed was no further back than that. But it might have been put in my box much more lately than that.

I should have attached more importance to it if persons could not make more than one legal will. It struck me that this might be an old one which had been voided by a later one and had got mixed with old out of date papers. But that did not explain how it came to be in my possession, for it was not a paper in which I or any of my family, so far as I knew, had any interest. I looked it over carefully to see if there was any clew by which I could discover who were the legatees, but there was nothing to give me the slightest information concerning it. I took it to my desk in a room I occupied for smoking and placed it in a pigeonhole, intending to advertise it. But time passed, and I took no action.

Some time after this I married my stenographer and typewriter. She was very poor, and I was not rich. I was making a bare living and until our first child was born she retained her position in my service. Indeed, it was essential that she should, and when children came and I was deprived of her assistance in spite of all my efforts I was losing my grip and could not afford to hire another stenographer.

One morning while looking over my newspaper my eye drifted to real estate items. One of them mentioned the sale of a piece of property belonging to the Chieningsby estate. The name was an odd one, but it seemed to me that I had seen it somewhere before.

"My dear," I said to my wife, "did you ever hear of the name Chieningsby?"

"I had an uncle by that name, though I never saw him. He disappeared when he was a boy and was never heard from. All I know of him is that I heard my mother speak of him before she died."

I kept thinking of the name till suddenly it flashed upon me that I had seen it in the will found in my iron box. I went to my desk, took out the document and read the name of the testator—James Chieningsby. I called my wife and read the will to her. When I came to the name of the heir to the residue of the estate I stopped, wonder-stricken. It was her maiden name.

She was as much mystified as I. All she knew of the name of Chieningsby was what she had told me. But we were both in a flutter of excitement. What did it mean? Then I remembered that a man may make a will every day if he likes and only the last one is of any value. Nevertheless I was aroused. I rushed out to my attorney, or the one who had once had my law business, showed him the document and was about to ask him to make an investigation for me when he exclaimed:

"By thunder!"

"Explain!" I cried impatiently.

"Instead of answering me he called out to his partners. 'Here's a will for the Chieningsby estate.'"

"For heaven's sake tell me!"

"Where did you get this?"

"Found it in a box of mine where it has probably been for years."

"It represents an estate that has never been settled since no one has been found near enough of kin to claim it. If this is genuine all but these few bequests goes to Miss Katherine Miller, whoever she may be."

"She's my wife."

We were rich. The will had been left by the testator with my attorneys, had got mixed with the bundle of papers given to me and had come to light when most needed.

Kindness to Animals.

"What I believe in," said Mr. Erasmus Pinky, "is kindness to dumb animals."

"Yes," replied Miss Miami Brown, "it has rubbed that some folks kin to a chicken off de roos so gentle tender dat he won't have his sleep disturbed sk'zely none."—Washington Star.

FORREST H. COLBY
Lumbering and Management of Timber Lands
Pulp Wood Supply

BINGHAM, ME., March 21, 1911.

BUICK MOTOR COMPANY,
15-21 LAWTON STREET, Boston, Mass.

Gentlemen:—I bought a Buick Model 17, new, last April, from Hackett & Witham of Skowhegan, Maine. I run it 11,000 miles and my actual repair expense outside of tires was $6.00. Of course, my chauffeur did more or less tinkering, but this was the actual repair bill. We went, and always came back, and never stayed indoors for any kind of weather when we wanted to go for business or pleasure. All of this work was done in northern Maine, much of it in the extreme northern part of Somerset County. The country is very hilly and I never came in contact with any machine that could begin to keep out of my way on the hills. I shall run the car this season. Last fall we took it down and overhauled it thoroughly and found none of the parts worn enough to do any harm.

You will notice by my letter-heading what my business is, and you can imagine how I naturally would use a car in doing business of this kind. Many times we would take men with us and have camp kits, etc.; so you see we did not try to favor the car in any way in regard to loading it.

Should you wish for references in regard to my standing in this section, I would refer you to the First National Bank of Skowhegan, of which I am one of the directors.

Yours very truly, F. H. COLBY.
